

Old Hand · old-school service

An experienced old-school service engineer or engineer comes to you, looks at the problem – and repairs or analyses (almost) anything. From a pool of seniors who built machines and maintained them for decades.

DURATION

Per day on site ·
up to 10 h

Why

The manufacturer no longer exists, the machine is end of service, your own people don't know it any more – but it runs, and you need it. An Old Hand brings the knowledge found in no manual: mechanics, electrics, pneumatics, hydraulics, controls of the past.

Who it's for

Operators of older machines and plants, maintenance managers, service companies without a suitable specialist.

Your benefit

- Decades of experience, not textbook knowledge
- Diagnosis and repair in one visit
- Also for machines without manufacturer and without documentation
- Clear daily rate incl. meals

Prerequisites

- Machine accessible, contact person on site
- Existing documents, fault description and photos in advance
- Safety rules and permits of the operation

How it works

- 1 Book directly: choose your preferred day and pay – or request a quote
- 2 Confirmation of the right senior within 24 hours
- 3 Short preliminary phone call with documents and photos
- 4 On-site assignment: diagnosis, repair or analysis
- 5 Report with findings, measures and recommendations

Included

- One day on site up to 10 hours of work
- Meals
- Preliminary clarification and job report
- Placement from the MAROIS senior pool

Deliverables

- A repaired machine – or a clear diagnosis with measures
- Report with findings, parts and recommendations for maintenance and spare parts
